y life shall touch a dozen lives
before this day is done,
eave countless marks of good or ill
ere sets the evening's sun.

From out each point of contact of my life with other lives
Flows ever that which helps the on

MRS. BLANCHE FARLEY

CRESCENT" to our sponsors, Mrs. Blanche Farley and Mr. Dick Smalley.

and class spirit not only as sponsors but also as teachers.

My life may touch a million lives in some way ere I go
From this drear land of struggle to the land I do not know.

So this is the wish I always wish,
the prayer I always pray:
Let my life help the other lives

SENIOR CLASS WILL

To whom it may concern: We, the members of the Senior Class of 1955, Crescent, Oklahoma, being of sound and intelligent mind and very good-looking, bequeath the following upon our lovable school mates.

First, to the faculty we leave the unintelligent Junior Class.

To the members of the Junior Class, the hope that some day they will be as good-looking, honorable, and intelligent as the class of 1955.

To the Sophomores we leave our ability to get along with teachers and to make the Honor Society so frequently.

To the Freshmen our quiet, mild disposition in the halls, assembly, etc., and hope they will take this advice to heart.

To the Eighth Graders we leave our class colors, red and white, with the hope that they will reverence and honor them, also our motto "Excelsior."

Alice Sade wills her ability to sit by a smart boyfriend in Chemistry to all girls smart enough to heed this advice.

Ella Mae Swanson wills her ability as a twirler to Olive Short.

Glenda Tackitt wills her height and stately appearance to Richard Oltmanns and tells him to make good use of it.

Margaret Ryland wills her talented ability as Annual Editor to anyone dumb enough to accept it.

Velma Cutter wills her dramatic ability to Margaret McConnel.

Shirley Osborn wills her sex appeal to Barbara Phillips.

Shirley Rigdon wills her ability as the only married member of the Senior Class to Eileen Rigdon.

Myrna Chambers wills her ability to always have a flash-bulb camera around to Wilma Oltmanns, and says "be careful about the subject matter some pictures just don't develop very good."

Saralee Eroenbright wills her decisive mind and calm, carefree manner to Patricia Strlet.

Patricia Williams wills that crazy giggle of hers to the Freshmen girls.

Connie Hewitt wills all her old speeches to Nancy Cummings with a little note saying "make them spicy."

Greta Don Harmon wills all her old notes on Macbeth to Phyllis Keele.

Gloria Mackey wills her ability to "flb" to Billie Sue Mize.

Franklin Pardue wills his slow, calm talking ability to Rosalie Tontz.

Bobby Kite wills his muscles and physique to Calvin Tontz. Bobby still thinks he can make a boxer out of Calvin.

Bobby Broyles absolutely refuses to will Ella Mae to anyone.

Charles Brown wills his love of sports and his red tie and handkerchief to W. J. Tilley.

Jimmie Jones wills his title as the only lawyer that never won a case to Jerry Myers.

Jim Rogers wills his ambition to become a prima-ballerina to Larry Morrisett.

Johnny Wilkerson wills his title as "the boy most unlikely to succeed" to Eulas Nelson.

Delvin Heskett wills his carefree grin to Billy Robison.

Leon Clymer wills his vim, vigor, and vitality to Buck Smith.

Curtis Blackmon wills his office as Band President (which he has thoroughly enjoyed) to Dale Hopson.

Robert Cox wills his beautiful voice (that just goes with that big masculine physique) to Robert Batchelor.

Dwayne Gooch wills his medal as the safest driver of the year to Judy Jones.

Roger Yenzer wills his Casanova ways to Douglas Hall.

J. C. Swanson wills his ability to embarrass people to Jim Hildreth.

Loren Watts wills his ability to be one of the first ones to be on the Uncle Willy's program to Elsworth Pethtel.
